

DRAFT MIDD II Funding and Programmatic Recommendation Factors

5.24.16

As requested at the April 29 MIDD Oversight Committee, this table summarizes the three primary factors used to inform draft MIDD II funding and programmatic recommendations. The table also identifies those initiatives that are primarily considered criminal justice related. The factors are: Briefing Panel sorting, community engagement feedback, and King County policy priorities. Please note that a draft MIDD II initiative may have more than one factor that contributed to it being recommended or it may show one factor. The factors are explained below.

- Panel Sort: Initiatives that received 50% or more of the high sorting dots from the individual Briefing Paper Panels are shown in the table below. Initiatives that received fewer than 50% of the high sorting dots are not included. Please note that not all panels had the same number of papers, dots, or panel participants.
- Community Engagement: Initiatives that are related to specific themes from community conversations and/or focus group themes are identified. Community Engagement themes are summarized and shown on the MIDD website.
- King County Policy Priority: Initiatives that reflect a King County policy priority that may not be addressed by the Panel sorting or Community Engagement are shown. A policy priority may be considered something integral to King County’s provision of services or necessary for system (or cross system) operations.

The table is in alphabetical order.
