HENRY'S RIDGE OPEN SPACE

Henry's Ridge Open Space is a 250-acre park about three miles southeast of Maple Valley. Prior to King County's ownership, this mostly forested site was managed as industrial timber lands. King County acquired Henry's Ridge Open Space to protect its natural lands from development and restore the forest's resilience against threats of disease, pests, drought, and wildfires. The park also has an extensive trail system that has nearly 20 miles of multi-use trails.
