March Project Update: Extended construction work hours on Treatment Station site

Starting as early as Monday, March 23, crews will be working an additional shift at the Georgetown Wet Weather Treatment Station site at the corner of Fourth Avenue South and South Michigan Street. Extended hours shift crews will begin to work from 2:30 p.m. to 2:00 a.m. during weekdays. A noise variance permit during this timeframe has been approved. This work shift is in addition to crews working the regular permitted hours from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Crew will be working inside the fencing on the treatment station's equalization basin. This work could last for several months.

As crews continue to make progress constructing the wet weather treatment station, conveyance pipes, and new outfall pipe, additional pedestrian and commuter detours may be needed. King County WTD will work to notify the community ahead of time before those detours go into effect. In early April, the community can expect a sidewalk detour on Fourth Avenue South as utility work is completed. The sidewalk on the north side of the road will be closed for up to three days, and pedestrians will be rerouted to use the sidewalk on the south of the road instead.

What to expect during construction:

- Crews on site at the treatment station working inside the fencing from 7 a.m. – 2 a.m.
- Noise and lighting typical of a construction site
- Security on active project sites
- Pedestrian detour on Fourth Avenue South in early April for up to three days
- 24/7 active construction hotline
- Construction on the conveyance pipes continues under the First Avenue South Bridge. Restoration work continues at the outfall pipe site by the Duwamish River.
