SECTION 1 PROJECT SPECIFICATIONS AND SCOPE OF WORK

Public Health–Seattle & King County (PHSKC) is requesting applications from community-based agencies to participate in Promoting First Relationships Agency Training, either TRAIN-THE-LEARNER training model OR Promoting First Relationships TRAIN-THE-TRAINER training model. PHSKC may select multiple agencies from all qualified applicants. BSK DESCRIPTION

Best Starts for Kids (Best Starts) is King County’s community-driven initiative to support every baby born and child raised in King County to be happy, healthy, safe, and thriving. Initially approved by voters in 2015 and in place since 2016, Best Starts invests in comprehensive supports for children, youth, young adults, and families and caregivers, catalyzing strong starts in early childhood, and sustaining those gains as children progress to adulthood. Best Starts was renewed by voters in August 2021. Implementation of Best Starts is guided by the BSK Implementation Plan, approved by the King County Council in November 2021 for Levy 2022-27.

Headline and secondary indicators related to birth, development, health, safety, education and life skills form the foundation for evaluating BSK and informing priorities over time, as the initiative progresses. Further information on indicators is included in Section III/Evaluation.

EQUITY AND SOCIAL JUSTICE

For many in our region, King County is a great place to live, learn, work and play. Yet we have deep and persistent inequities - especially by race and place - that in many cases are getting worse and threaten our collective prosperity. Launched by King County Executive Ron Sims in 2008 and formalized by Executive Dow Constantine and the Metropolitan King County Council via ordinance in 2010, Equity and Social Justice (ESJ) is integral to the County’s work and foundational to the work of Best Starts for Kids. Our goal is to ensure that all people, regardless of who they are or where they live, have the opportunity to thrive, with full and equal access to opportunities, power, and resources. For all BSK funded programs, we seek to support organizations that are reflective of and embedded in the communities they serve and recognize and address the disparities and disproportionality that exist in our communities.

RACISM IS A PUBLIC HEALTH CRISIS

In 2020, Executive Dow Constantine declared racism a public health crisis. All of King County government is committed to implementing a racially equitable response to this crisis, centering on community. Equity and Social Justice (ESJ) is an integrated part of the County’s work and foundational to the work of PHKC. The goal is to make King County a thriving place to live, learn, work and play for all regardless of who they are and where they live. This means KC will have a pro-equity approach by being racially just and inclusive, and consistently taking action to eliminate the root causes of inequities.

We seek to support community-led and community-informed organizations that are reflective of and embedded in the communities they serve across all aspects of their leadership and services. We further seek to support organizations that recognize and address the disparities that exist in our communities, both across PHSKC and by specific program area.

Applicants may be asked to demonstrate an understanding and a commitment to the principles of equity and social justice as shown through their staffing and their board, services tailored to community need and commitment to social justice and continuous improvement. One aspect of this work includes understanding – at both a program and system level – structural and institutional racism as it plays out for individuals served through funded services, and the disparate impacts on individuals’ collective experiences and outcomes compared to the population as a whole.

More information about King County’s ESJ work is available at:

<https://kingcounty.gov/elected/executive/constantine/initiatives/racism-public-health-crisis.aspx>

PART 2 - DESCRIPTION

The Best Starts for Kids Levy seeks to reduce families’ risk of involvement in the child welfare and justice systems by increasing strong maternal-child attachments, connections to community and/or extended families, and other indigenous supports.

A. GOAL

The goal of the project is for Agency staff to receive intensive training in the evidence-based curriculum, Promoting First Relationships (PFR), in order to become a PFR AGENCY PROVIDER or PFR AGENCY TRAINER depending on past training experience.

B. FOCUS POPULATION

The population focus for the project are community-based Agency staff that work with King County families with young children, primarily birth to five, who live in environments where stressors are particularly high.

C. OUTCOMES

1. Agency staff receiving the PFR TRAIN-THE-LEARNER training model will acquire skills to provide service to children and caregivers that result in:
 - a. Increased school readiness
 - b. Increased children’s healthy social-emotional development
 - c. Increased responsive, nurturing caregiver relationships
2. Agency staff receiving the PFR TRAIN-THE-TRAINER training model will be able to provide the above plus, as PFR Agency Trainers, they can train others in their Agency as PFR Providers.

PFR staff will track and measure Learners’ and Trainers’ progress to ensure they meet benchmarks.

D. OUTPUTS AND ACTIVITIES

From January 1, 2024, through December 31, 2024, the Agency shall accomplish the following outputs for ONE of the two training level options outlined below:

1. PFR TRAIN-THE-LEARNER level training: this is the level of training that a person is eligible for if they have not previously been trained as a PFR learner.
 - a. Learners from Agency staff shall train to become PFR Learners. Agencies may apply for more than one learner.
 - b. Learners and one Supervisor are required to attend a 2-day PFR orientation which will be held in-person at a location near the University of Washington on March 28 and 29, 2024 from 8:30 AM to 5:00 PM.
 - c. Phase I Training: Learners will view 11 professionally filmed PFR sessions with caregivers (parents and childcare providers) and young children (infant, toddler, special needs). The videos were developed and narrated by Dr. Jean Kelly, PFR founder, and will be available to Learners during the training period.

After viewing two videos at a time, Master Trainers and Learners working in pairs will meet for 5 online sessions weekly in a virtual classroom to reflect on the filmed sessions and the PFR infant mental health essentials.

- d. Phase II Training: During the next 3 months, Learners will implement PFR for 10 weeks visiting with a caregiver/child dyad from his/her own site/caseload, either doing in-person or telepractice visits with video capability, such as Zoom. The PFR Master Trainer will meet online weekly during this time with the Learner in order to provide mentoring and training on the PFR curriculum. The Learner will do a self-recording for part or all of at least three of the home visits (or telepractice visits) in order to receive feedback and consultation about their PFR skills. All online training sessions will include reflection on videos of the dyadic interactions and discussion about how to implement the PFR concepts and consultation strategies.
 - e. Phase III Training: Following the Phase II training, each Learner will receive at least 1 follow up meeting with the PFR Master Trainer to assist them as they continue to implement PFR with more families on their caseloads. The follow up session(s) will involve the PFR Master Trainer viewing parent-child interaction videos with learners, discussing how to implement specific PFR curriculum with the unique caregiver/child dyads they are working with, and problem solving any area of PFR implementation that is concerning to the Learners.
 - f. Following level 2 training, providers can access ongoing monthly PFR consultations to support them in their PFR work, as they work with additional families.
2. PFR TRAIN-THE TRAINER level training: if a person has been trained at a PFR Learner level and if that person has passed PFR fidelity measures, they may apply to be considered for this training level.
- a. The Agency Trainer candidate can be a single applicant from the Agency, but may be paired up with an Agency Trainer trainee from a different agency for Phase I of the training (see below).
 - b. Phase I Training: Agency Trainers will meet weekly for three weeks online with their PFR Master Trainer to view and discuss caregiver-child observation videos to hone an Agency Trainer's observation skills in areas of attachment, parent's sensitivity and responsiveness to cues as well as other factors important to building a healthy and secure caregiver-child relationship. Agency Trainers will develop intervention goals for the dyad after viewing the videos and will practice which consultation strategies to use when giving feedback and which handouts would be most important for the dyad. During these three weeks, Agency Trainers will also read and discuss with their PFR Master Trainer articles on attachment, child development, reflective supervision, and other topics to help them learn how to support and train their own Learners once they are certified as a PFR Agency Trainer.
 - c. Phase II Training: During the next 3 months, Agency Trainers will implement PFR for 10 weeks visiting with a caregiver/child dyad from his/her own site/caseload, either doing in-person or telepractice visits with video capability, such as Zoom. The PFR Master Trainer will meet online weekly during this time to provide mentoring and training on the PFR curriculum. The Agency Trainer will do a self-recording for part or all of at least three of the visits in order to receive feedback and consultation about their PFR skills. All sessions will include reflection on videos of the dyadic interactions and discussion about how to implement the PFR concepts and consultation strategies. Agency Trainers will also receive consultation around how to train their own future Learners using the PFR Learner training schedule.
 - d. Phase III Training: Following the Phase II training, each Agency Trainer will receive 2 follow up meetings with the PFR Master Trainer to assist the Agency Trainer as they continue to implement PFR with more families and as they begin to train agency staff in the PFR Learner model. The follow up sessions will involve the PFR Master Trainer viewing parent-child interaction videos with the Agency Trainer, discussing how to implement specific PFR curriculum with the unique caregiver/child dyads they are working with, problem solving any area of PFR implementation that the Agency Trainer wants further instruction in, and supporting the Agency Trainer as they begin to train Learners at their Agency. Each Agency Trainer will be required to view and reflect on the 11 training videos before training learners at their site.

- e. Ongoing requirement for agency Trainers: Agency agrees to commit to provide time for the Agency Trainer to attend a monthly online 60-minute Reflective Consultation meeting following the training period. This group meeting is currently funded by this Levy grant, but agencies have to provide on-going release time for their Trainer for this meeting.

King County reserves the right to audit the agency throughout the term of the subsequent Agreement to assure the agency's financial fitness to perform and comply with all terms and conditions contained within the Agreement.
