Definitions: Household work barriers and exceptions

Activities of daily living: Includes activities related to personal care, such as bathing or showering, dressing, getting in and out of bed or a chair, walking, using the toilet and eating. This may include other activities, such as shopping and meal preparation, that allow the individual to remain in the community.

Caregiver: Includes parents, guardians, caretaker relatives, and family caregivers of people with disabilities or with dependent children under 14. Parents, guardians, and caretaker relatives must live with the individual needing care and be considered primarily responsible for the individual. Multiple household members can meet this definition. Family caregivers do not need to meet the same standard, but they must have a significant relationship with the individual and they must provide care within a broad range of assistance.

Disabled veteran with a 100% disability rating: Veteran with a total or 100% disability rating from Veterans Affairs (VA).

Drug or alcohol disorder: A behavioral health condition characterized by uncontrolled use of one or more substances despite harmful consequences and impairment.

Mental health disorder: A significant mental illness, including both persistent and episodic, that impairs an individual's ability to function in daily life activities.

Physical, intellectual, or developmental disability: A physical, intellectual, or developmental disability that significantly impairs an individual's ability to perform one or more activities of daily living.

Receiving care in a hospital: Spending part or all of a month in an inpatient hospital, nursing home, ICF/IID (intermediate care facility for individuals with intellectual disabilities), inpatient psychiatric hospital services or other services of similar acuity.

Serious health condition: An illness, impairment, injury, or physical or mental condition that significantly impairs health.

SNAP/TANF work requirements: A SNAP household that is required to meet SNAP work requirements, or a household compliant with TANF work requirements.

Traveling outside your community to get medical care: Travelling for at least 1 hour to get medical care, regardless of your method of travel, whether by foot, public transportation, personal vehicle, rideshare, or any other commonly available modes of transportation.

Definitions: Report work, school, volunteer, or training

Half-time related to school: Half-time enrollment status is based on the school. For example, the University of Washington Tacoma considers half-time enrollment for undergraduate students as 6-11 credit hours and 5-9 credit hours for graduate students. Clover Park Technical College considers half-time enrollment as 6-8 credit hours.

Volunteer or community service: Unpaid work within a structured program that is completed for the benefit of the community. Community service hours do not have to be on a voluntary basis. Unpaid work that is for the benefit of an individual or a personal business should be reported as work. Examples of community service locations include schools, the Humane Society, animal shelters, libraries, food banks, and city, state, or federal parks.

Work: Labor provided in exchange for money, goods or services, or as unpaid labor. An example of work in exchange for goods or services is Mary, who works 87 hours per month as the property manager of the building she lives in. Mary does not get paid, but she receives reduced rent in exchange for her labor. Examples of unpaid labor include someone who provides unpaid work for the benefit of an individual or personal business, such as mowing your neighbor's lawn, babysitting, or volunteering your time at a personal business.

Work or training program: A work or training program is employment training, or any work-related activities, designed to assist an individual in obtaining employment or to improve employability.
