

Washington State Declaration of Write-in Candidacy

how to file as a write-in candidate

when to file

All declarations of candidacy must be received by the filing officer before 8 p.m. on election day.

Declarations of candidacy received after this time and date, regardless of the postmark, are invalid.

where to file

- File with the Office of the Secretary of State if the office sought is federal, statewide, or is a legislative, court of appeals, or superior court office that includes more than one county. You may file in person, by mail, or email at elections@sos.wa.gov.
- File with the County Elections Office for all other offices.

cost to file

The filing fee is nonrefundable, even in the event of withdrawal.

A declaration filed 19+ days before the election requires no filing fee.

A declaration filed 18 days or less before the election requires a fee based on the salary for that office at the time of the official filing period. A position that had no fee during the filing period requires a $25 fee after 18 days before the election.

Filing fees or filing fee petitions must accompany the declaration of candidacy at the time of filing.

Candidates without sufficient assets or income to pay the filing fee may instead submit a filing fee petition. Petitions must include a total number of valid signatures no fewer than the dollar amount of the filing fee.

voters' pamphlet

A statement and photograph will be published only when a write-in candidate qualifies as a top two finisher in the primary.

Only write-in candidates whose names are printed on the general election ballot will appear in the general election voters' pamphlet/guide.

Write-in candidates declaring for a primary should submit a voters' pamphlet statement and photograph when filing. Doing so will meet publication deadlines if the candidate continues on to the general election ballot.

Write-in candidates for the general election do not appear on the ballot or in the voters' pamphlet/guide.

other requirements:

public disclosure and campaign finance reporting with the Public Disclosure Commission

Reporting requirements are based on the office, campaign revenues, and size of jurisdiction.

State law requires most campaigns to complete a Financial Affairs Disclosure of the candidate's personal finances, and many also need to register and submit detailed reporting of campaign finances.

More information can be found at www.pdc.wa.gov.

Washington State Declaration of Write-in Candidacy

how to complete the form

1. candidate information

Your name and address must match your voter registration.

Update your voter information prior to submitting a declaration of candidacy.

You are responsible for ensuring that you meet all qualifications of the office.

2. campaign information

If you do not provide campaign information, your information as a registered voter will be used.

A telephone number, email address, or website is not required, but recommended.

Government office addresses may not be used for campaigns

3. ballot information

Print the jurisdiction, the office name and any position or district number defining the office for which you are a candidate.

The responsibility for filing for the correct office is yours.

Print your name exactly as you wish it to appear on the ballot.

Nicknames are acceptable.

Titles denoting occupations, including military rank, positions on issues, political affiliation, symbols, or anything intentionally designed to mislead voters are not acceptable.

party preference information:

For a partisan office, you may choose to state a political party that you personally prefer.

A preference does not imply that you have been nominated or endorsed by the party, or that the party approves of or associates with you.

If you choose to state a party preference, enter the name of the party (limited to 18 characters).
