Dear Ivan Miller,

I am writing today in opposition to the proposed countywide planning policy amendments that would allow urban growth boundary expansions based on expansions to the 1994 King County urban growth area (UGA) including a new urban growth area expansion at the I-90 interchange near North Bend.

I support focusing growth in my community based on the Urban Growth Area line adopted in 1994 and not on later additions for North Bend and Snoqualmie. The GMPC should not allow UGA expansions to be added to UGA additions adopted after the 1994 UGA. Adding UGA expansions onto UGA expansions creates an urban pattern that are more expensive to serve with public facilities and services and will generate unnecessary adverse traffic impacts and additional greenhouse gas pollution.

Please vote NO on the countywide planning policy amendments that would allow UGA expansions through the four to one program on UGA expansions adopted after the 1994 UGA.

Sincerely,
Robbie Cunningham Adams

Dear Ivan Miller,

I am writing today in opposition to the proposed countywide planning policy amendments that would allow urban growth boundary expansions based on expansions to the 1994 King County urban growth area (UGA) including a new urban growth area expansion at the I-90 interchange near North Bend. We need of to strongly discourage further expansion. We don't have good non-car transportation options out there which means growth out there is exclusionary to disabled non-drivers as well as folks too poor to own cars. So joy only does it damage more ecosystem and create more sprawl, expanding the growth boundary excludes substantial numbers of people from new housing.

Dear Ivan Miller,

I am writing today in opposition to the proposed countywide planning policy amendments that would allow urban growth boundary expansions based on expansions to the 1994 King County urban growth area (UGA) including a new urban growth area expansion at the I-90 interchange near North Bend. I have recently been out in areas along the existing urban growth boundary and in Black Diamond. The level of development is intense, and shocking, in terms of environmental effects. We do not need to expand this further and further erode our environmental buffer against global warming.

Dear Ivan Miller,

I am writing today in opposition to the proposed countywide planning policy amendments that would allow urban growth boundary expansions based on expansions to the 1994 King County urban growth area (UGA) including a new urban growth area expansion at the I-90 interchange near North Bend.

I support focusing growth in my community based on the Urban Growth Area line adopted in 1994 and not on later additions for North Bend and Snoqualmie. The GMPC should not allow UGA expansions to be added to UGA additions adopted after the 1994 UGA. Adding UGA expansions onto UGA expansions creates an urban pattern that are more expensive to serve with public facilities and services and will generate unnecessary adverse traffic impacts and additional greenhouse gas pollution.

Please vote NO on the countywide planning policy amendments that would allow UGA expansions through the four to one program on UGA expansions adopted after the 1994 UGA.

Sincerely,
Anne Nequette

Dear Ivan Miller,

Please do not expand the UGA, which will result in more environmental harms to the region. We need denser housing in the already built-up area, not more traffic and pollution-inducing sprawl.

Dear Ivan Miller,

Hello,

I am writing today in opposition to the proposed countywide planning policy amendments that would allow urban growth boundary expansions based on expansions to the 1994 King County urban growth area (UGA) including a new urban growth area expansion at the I-90 interchange near North Bend.

New developments need to focus on liveable density that supports transit other than cars. Adding more growth further out from established urban centers will encourage more people to travel further by car for work, recreation and other needs, making our existing infrastructure and environmental problems worse.

I support focusing growth in my community based on the Urban Growth Area line adopted in 1994 and not on later additions for North Bend and Snoqualmie. The GMPC should not allow UGA expansions to be added to UGA additions adopted after the 1994 UGA. Adding UGA expansions onto UGA expansions creates an urban pattern that is more expensive to serve with public facilities and services and will generate unnecessary adverse traffic impacts and additional greenhouse gas pollution.

Please vote NO on the countywide planning policy amendments that would allow UGA expansions through the four to one program on UGA expansions adopted after the 1994 UGA.

The GMPC should not allow UGA expansions to be added to UGA additions adopted after the 1994 UGA. Adding UGA expansions onto UGA expansions creates an urban pattern that are more expensive to serve with public facilities and services and will generate unnecessary adverse traffic impacts and additional greenhouse gas pollution.

Please vote NO on the countywide planning policy amendments that would allow UGA expansions through the four to one program on UGA expansions adopted after the 1994 UGA.

Dear Ivan Miller,

I am writing today in opposition to the proposed countywide planning policy amendments that would allow urban growth boundary expansions based on expansions to the 1994 King County urban growth area (UGA) including a new urban growth area expansion at the I-90 interchange near North Bend.

I support focusing growth in my community based on the Urban Growth Area line adopted in 1994 and not on later additions for North Bend and Snoqualmie. The GMPC should not allow UGA expansions to be added to UGA additions adopted after the 1994 UGA. Adding UGA expansions onto UGA expansions creates an urban pattern that are more expensive to serve with public facilities and services and will generate unnecessary adverse traffic impacts and additional greenhouse gas pollution.

Dear Mr. Miller,

I'm Vincent Rivera, a student at Bellevue College and resident of Sammamish. Over the past few months, I've gotten involved in the city's work on planning for future growth and I've become interested in urban planning as a career. Going into today's Growth Management Planning Council meeting, I hope you're welcome to some of my personal opinions on how King County should continue to develop.

What I've noticed is that despite many municipality's promises of improving walkability and transit-oriented development, there has not been enough real action taken. Car-dependent development and sprawl continue and forests are still being cut down. These communities should be emphasizing dense development within their urban cores. Tracts of land such big box store centers and their adjacent parking lots should be the priority for development, not sprawling out from the outskirts.

That is why I would like to argue it is unnecessary for the urban growth boundary to be expanded in any place at this current time, In fact, it makes more sense to make the boundary stricter in some areas as to disincentivize sprawl.

I hope this letter finds you well,

Vincent Rivera
