Background Overview

Candidates' backgrounds are reviewed and evaluated through various steps in the recruitment and hiring process. All Sheriff's Office candidates are held to background standards as outlined in the Civil Service Rules. In addition to the sections listed in the following pages (drug use, military record, domestic violence, criminal activity, and driving history), the Sheriff's Office background unit may disqualify a candidate for:

- Any conduct that may decrease public confidence in the KCSO, is not consistent with KCSO's high ethical standards, and/or prevents the KCSO's ability to effectively fulfill its responsibilities.
- Social media content that does not align with the KCSO's core values, and/or demonstrates discrimination against marginalized communities.
- Omitting information at any time during the recruiting and hiring process, which includes; minimizing of drug use, employment terminations, arrests and/or convictions (regardless of outcome), etc.
- Falsifying any information or required documentation at any time during the recruiting and hiring process.
